

Town Halls

Engaging lawmakers at congressional town halls is one of the most important techniques in running an effective grassroots advocacy campaign. However, finding events to send your field resources to can be a challenge.

Make tracking town halls easy

LegiStorm makes town hall monitoring easy. We compile town hall announcements from literally thousands of different sources, including Twitter, Facebook, member websites, constituent e-newsletters, press releases, telephone trees and other sources.

Focus on results, not tracking

We'll let you know about thousands of town hall-style events you can participate in each year, whether traditional town halls or Twitter town halls or one-on-one sessions with the member of Congress. We compile the events so you can focus on your message and organizing your team. Add an upcoming town hall directly to your calendar app with a single click of your mouse.
